

ASRT Teaches R.T.s to Assume Leadership Roles

Twenty-two imaging technologists and radiation therapists from across the country honed their leadership skills in January at the four-day annual ASRT Leadership Academy in Albuquerque, N.M. The R.T.s came from 19 states stretching from Alaska to Mississippi to develop leadership roles in their state affiliates and eventually the ASRT. They learned about the function of boards, parliamentary procedures, problem-solving techniques, public relations, advocacy, CE, fundraising and legal aspects of leadership for nonprofits. In its 13th year, the ASRT Leadership Academy has trained more than 450 imaging professionals. Get the details about the 2010 Leadership Academy.

Beginning with the bottom row from left to right:

Row #1 JoAnn Gaddis, Elizabeth Nelson, Mashelle Maples, Janeen Johnson and Dawn Sturk

Row #2 Tracy Kimler, Sharon Keegan, Angela Foy, Cecilia Del Rio and Jacqueline Kralik

Row #3 Virginia Lester, John Mancera, Ralph Marant, Melissa Mace, Tyler Martin and David Whipple

Row #4 Ken Andres, Heather Moore, Kristin Mitas, John Melvin, Lorenza Clausen and Larry Stoller